

Kristina Miles, DO

Board-certified Pediatrician

Dr. Kristina Miles is a board-certified pediatrician who is passionate about improving the health of her community. She provides care for children of all ages at the Portico clinic and is excited to return to her home state of Idaho after practicing as a general pediatrician in Brooklyn, New York. Dr. Miles attended medical school at Midwestern University's Arizona College of Osteopathic Medicine and completed her training at the Oklahoma State University residency in pediatrics.

In her free time, Dr. Miles enjoys spending time with her family, which includes her husband, two young children, and a Goldendoodle. She also enjoys reading fantasy books and being active on the weekends, whether skiing or kickboxing. As an osteopathic physician, Dr. Miles takes a holistic approach to patient care, constantly striving to expand her education and skills through continuing education and additional courses. She is committed to providing personalized and compassionate care, taking the time to listen to each child, and working closely with parents to create the best healthcare plan.

Dr. Miles is dedicated to serving her community and church outside the clinic. She recently served as the Primary Music Director at her church, leading music classes for children aged 3-11. Dr. Miles is excited to be back in Idaho and is looking forward to meeting and caring for the families of the Treasure Valley.
