

Cortney Schnupp, MSN

Certified Nurse Midwife

Cortney Schnupp, MSN is a Certified Nurse Midwife (CNM) that joins our CNM team providing obstetric care and delivery services at the St. Luke's Family Birth Center in Nampa. She will be seeing patients at our North Nampa clinic.

+ Experience

Cortney has been providing midwifery care to her female patients since 2014, she helped start the midwifery program at a large independent OB clinic in the Treasure Valley. She is especially proud to support her patients in their healthcare journey throughout their lifespan, including those with complex treatment needs such as infertility treatments and thyroid issues. Additional areas of clinic interest in addition to maternal women's' health include counseling, treatment and prevention of STIs, menses management for all ages and birth control counseling and initiation.

Most recently, Cortney has been a charge nurse at St. Luke's Regional Medical Center, supervising 14 labor and delivery beds and a Level III neonatal intensive care unit.
